

NOVEMBER 10 2021 | 12PM-3.30PM ADST

PANDEMIC TRAUMA | PERSON PLACE ENVIRONMENT

WWW.CIMA.ORG.AU

DISCUSSION PANEL

LIVE & INTERACTIVE

PATTY STEWART MCCORD (CANADA)

Patty Stewart McCord is a long-recognised leader in crisis intervention in Canada including a Premier's Award for Excellence after the Dene High School shootings. She is the author of 'Healing Ways: Group Crisis Interventions for Indigenous Peoples' and co-leads the network supporting over 50,000 healthcare workers during the Covid-19 pandemic.

ANGELA LEWIS (UK)

Angela Lewis is a leading figure in crisis intervention in Scotland having served as an Aircraft Commander in the UK's Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm. She introduced and developed crisis intervention training in several high-risk organisations including healthcare, fire, rescue and aviation. Her phased approach to the pandemic saw improvements at all levels of healthcare management and leadership.

ANTONY TOBIN (AUS)

Antony is the Chief Medical Officer at St Vincent's Hospital Melbourne. He trained in respiratory and intensive care medicine and has worked as a consultant in the intensive care unit at St Vincent's since 2003. He has post graduate qualifications in epidemiology and health management.

Tēnā koutou katoa New Zealand responders - We acknowledge and welcome this opportunity to come together with our Australian whanau/family in learning and acknowledging that this is born from our enduring partnership